Large Main Street Development To Start Soon; Final Parking Field In Municipal Chain Opened

North Main St. Tract
Thrown Open for Cars,
Makes Total Seven

With the opening of the North Main st. parking field, designated as Parking Field 4, with a capacity for 432 cars, the $53,300 parking field program, inaugurated by the Village Board several years ago, has been brought to a conclusion.

There were no formal ceremonies when the field was opened, but car owners who discovered that it was ready for use and many automobiles have been parked there during the past week. There is some minor work still to be done by the Petersen Construction Co. of Baldwin, before everything is ship-shape at the field.

The chain of parking fields numbers seven, with accommodations for 1,174 machines. No. 1 for 283 cars in the block bounded by North Main, Smith and Church sts. and West Merrick rd. No. 2 for 180 cars is in the rear of the Grove Theatre in the block bounded by Grove, Pine and Church sts., and West Merrick rd. No. 3, 118 cars is on Henry st. between East Merrick and Sunrise Highway. No. 4 (48 cars) is in the rear of the Hills Market, on West Merrick rd. No. 6 (68 cars) the triangle bounded by Henry st., Newton Blvd., and Sunrise Highway, and No. 8 (44 cars) north of the Bohack store on South Grove st. Original No. 7, Sunrise Highway, east of Henry st., is the proposed parking plaza, which is now in its 88th year.

The fields are to be financed by an assessment of which 75 percent will be levied against the business areas and 25 against the village as a whole.

Born on South Ocean ave., Patchogue, Aug. 28, 1861, Mrs. Train died there the greater part of her life until the Howell Homestead was torn down to make way for the present high school. She was the daughter of Addison and Ellen Russell Howell and came of colonial descent on both sides of the family. Her father, Addison Howell, along with the late Emerson Terrell built the First Methodist Church of Patchogue and many other old buildings. On the Howell side of the family she was descended from Edward Howell, founder of Southampton and on the maternal branch from Joseph Ruland, both father and son, also William Gerard and Moses Wicks, all of whom in the early 1700's helped in establishing American independence.

With Mr. and Mrs. Addison Howell and six of their eight children with their husbands and wives are buried within a radius of two squares in the Cedar Grove Cemetery, Patchogue. Charles Hathaway Howell lived to be 100 years old, 9 months and 10 days; Wilbur was 88; Lawrence 85; Lena Howell Kearney 82 and Eleanor Howell Dayton lacked a few months of 80. Joseph died at 77 and Edward at 87. Mrs. Train was the youngest of the eight children.

Mrs. Train was a member of the Freeport Methodist Church and an honorary member of the July-August Group of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. In 1931 she joined Ruth Floyd Woodhill Chapter, D.A.R., and attended four sessions of the Continental Congress Washington. She was also a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and a former member of the Athena Club of Freeport. Mrs. Train attended all these organizations during October, 1948, but in a fall-on, October, the 30th, was taken to the South Nassau Communities Hospital at Rockville Centre for four weeks. After returning to the home of her daughter, she was an uncomplaining invalid for a year and 8 months. At the hospital she was known as the "little old Methodist D.A.R. lady" when she wasn't talking Methodism. She was the D.A.R.

Mr. Train was a most extensive traveler, having been in every state in the Union, crossed the continent twice; visited 12 foreign countries, twice; provided by the refreshment committee.

He has served two years as president of the New York State Teachers Association and at present is president of the Council of City and Village Superintendents of the State of New York. Salvation Army Drive Belaated contributions have been brought to the total raised in the Freeport Auxiliary of the South Nassau Communities Hospital to raise $11,600 toward the campaign of the hospital to obtain $1,250,000 with which to enlarge the institution.

At the monthly meeting of the Auxiliary held in the home of Mrs. Henry Suter, 258 South Main st., two projects were voted—one to finance a 12-bed new nursery, priced at $6,000, and the other a four-bed ward involving the raising of $5,000. Plans have already been made for projects by which the Freeport members expect to meet their pledges.

Mrs. Gordon F. Wasser is the president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Bennett Minton, Jr., and Mrs. John Zender are vice-presidents; Mrs. Theodore Spitzer, corresponding secretary, Miss Miriam Meyers, recording secretary, and Mrs. Bernard Brokaw, treasurer.

The Freeport auxiliary is fully conscious of the terrific strain being put on the South Nassau Communities Hospital by the pressing population demands in South Nassau County.

Mrs. Wasser said, "We wish to do everything in our power to bring the expansion campaign to a quick and successful conclusion to alleviate the condition."

Demolition of buildings to make way for a block of new stores to be built on South Main st. Newton Blvd., H. H. Smith, architect, is expected to be started this week. Also the signing of leases for the new buildings is under way and within a few weeks complete details concerning the development will be announced by the Freeport Properties Corp.

The property has been acquired on a 99-year lease from C. Milton Forman, the owner, and according to Everett C. Furman, the president, involved a staggering sum.

Mr. Forman previously owned more real estate than any other individual in Freeport, and this is the first plot among his vast holdings that has been leased or sold. The assessed valuation of the area is $250,000, but the sales value is several times that amount.

Refusing to give out exact details, Mr. Furman said the transaction involved the largest-known rental of property in the history of the south shore, or even in the county.

Negotiations looking toward acquiring the property consumed several years, he explained, and after the land was assembled, there was litigation over leases held by the present occupants, which took some time before actual work on the project could be started.

The first three stores to be razed are those formerly occupied by Smith's meat market, the Open Air Market and Dillert Bros. char store. Most of the rest of the property is unoccupied except that of the Long Island Oil Co. at Sunrise Highway, and the plot extends from Henry st. to the brick structure of Post & Daniels.

Mr. Furman indicated several national chain merchandisers were interested in locating in the area, but "we don't know yet who will finally locate here."

Construction on the land, Furman predicted, will touch on a face-lift job on the site, and a new section.

"No new buildings have gone up there for 30 years," he added, "but we feel that what we have started is only the beginning of improvement on Main st. The activity will be one of the most beneficial things that this village has ever experienced."

In the corporation with Furman are Max Marin of Hempstead, vice-president; Milton Pinus of Hempstead, secretary, and Lester H. Baumann, treasurer.

P.B.C. Members Granted Use of the Casino Pool

The management of the Casino Pool has again arranged with the Freeport Police Boys' Club, through Patrolman Joseph Romelka, to permit the boys to use the pool Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

A reduced rate of 15 cents so the boys can take advantage of the facilities there. Mr. Romelka has announced that if any cannot afford the small fee, it will be paid by the P.B.C.

Free swimming instructions at the pool are to be provided by the Nassau County Red Cross Chapter.

The P.B.C. water polo team will meet Hempstead in its first game in the Jones Beach pool next Wednesday night.

SANDERS ON COMMITTEE OF M.C.L. CONVENTION

Jerome J. Sanders, 68 East Seaman ave., has been appointed chairman of the rules committee for the New York State Department convention.

This will be held from Friday, July 14 through the following Saturday at Saratoga Lake.

Mr. Sanders is commandant of the Smedley D. Butler Detachment of Nassau.

Many will go swimming, but for those who prefer the shade, and in case of showers, the shelter, which has accommodations for several hundred persons, will be available.

Unfortunately, The LEADER was in error last week in listing the committees for the Unity Party outing. The personnel of the committees as given was only tentative.

William J. Marvins Observes 40th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Marvin, 96 Southside ave., celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary by giving a family dinner at the Sea Breeze Hotel Thursday night.

The friendship between Mr. Marvin and the former Miss Ella Louise Roberts; that led to their marriage in St. George's P.E. Church, on June 29, 1910, started in their early lives. They lived on the same block on Hart st. in the Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn; and as children went through P.S. 25, Kosciusko st., Brooklyn, under the principalship of "Daddy" Howe and Frederick Mar. The Rev. Dr. Winfield Baer, rector of St. George's Church officiated at the wedding.

After his graduation from the Brooklyn Business College, Broadway, Brooklyn, as president of his class, Mr. Marvin went to Asbury H. N., as secretary to the then Mayor Charles A. Atkins. He remained there only a year before entering the automotive line in which he has spent most of his years. He was originally employed by the American Locomotive Co. When this corporation obtained the American rights for the manufacturing of the French Berlitz car, later the Alco, and organized its New York Automobile Division, Mr. Marvin was transferred to that subsidiary of the corporation. When the business was liquidated, he spent a year with the Manhattan Spools Co. and then joined the staff of Fitch, and then joined the staff of the Saxon Motor Co., which manufactured a car priced at $495. He next became associated with the old Maxwell Automobile Co., which shortly afterward absorbed the Chalmers Car, and manufactured both cars.

Walter Chrysler eventually took over the company and manufactured the Plymouth car which at first contained many of the features of the Maxwell. Since then the gigantic Chrysler empire has been built up.

On moving to Freeport in 1921, Mr. Marvin engaged in the moving and storage business for a time, while he returned to the Chrysler Corp. as secretary and treasurer of Dodge Motors, New York, Inc., the wholesale division of the concern.

Mr. Marvin has been a member of the Freeport Sewer Commission, the Park Commission and served two terms as Village Trustee. Resigning as a Village Father in 1942 to become Village Clerk, he also gave up his business connections in the city. Two years later, however, on retiring from office, he became affiliated with Bishop McCormick & Bishop, distributors of Dodge cars, in which capacity he is still engaged.

A member of Spartan Lodge, F&A.M., Mr. Marvin also belongs to Freeport chapter, O.E.S., the Transfiguration Episcopal Church, the Episcopal Men's Club and the Long Island Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution. He has been a volunteer fireman for 28 years as a member of Hose Co. 1, of which he is a past captain. Mrs. Marvin recently married her 25th anniversary as a member of the Eastern Star. She also is active in the Ladies' Guild of the Transfiguration Church and Julia Ward Howe Chapter, D. of U., 1861-65.

The Marvins are the parents of a son, Richard S. Marvin, of Rockville Centre, whose daughter Barbara, was graduated from the Oceanside High School, last month, and two daughters, Alice, wife of George D. Combs, of East Rockaway, and Linda, wife of whose husband is Vincent Haggerty, of Baldwin. They also have seven grandchildren. The anniversary dinner was attended only by the celebrants, the son and wife and the daughters with their husbands.

RUDNICK AT HEIGHTSTOWN
HIGHTSTOWN, N.J., July 6—Roger B. Rudnick, 108 North Brookside Ave., Freeport, N.Y., is among those attending the 30th annual annual session of the Oceanside School, according to the Oamar L. Hand, director of the summer school. Rudnick is registered in the regular ten weeks session which began on June 26 and will end on August 31. He attended Baldwin High School last year.

ICED COFFEE

1. Use a rich, strong coffee, because ice dilutes makes a weak coffee even more pallid and insipid.
2. We suggest—for strength, richness, flavor—MARTINSON'S.
3. Make it fresh, and pour hot over ice cubes.
4. Some folks freeze extra coffee as ice cubes in their refrigerators—strengthens flavor.

World Unity' Title Of Valedictory Of Gilbert At Baldwin Graduation

"World Unity" was the title of the valedictory address delivered by Gordon J. Gilbert at the commencement exercises of the Baldwin High School.

The world is falling, and we are failing with it," he said. "Divided we fall. Shall we be dashed to pieces? Or will the people of the world, awoken unite in time to save their lives and their civilization? These are important questions, answered pessimistically by our soldiers optimistically by our statesmen. These are broad questions, moreover, and thus depend upon many factors. One of the factors is ourselves, the graduates of today, and the citizens and leaders of tomorrow.

"It is not fitting, at this point, to look ahead, for fate often completely ignores our dreams of the future. Although the future may be vague, the past is secure and enduring. Therefore, by looking back upon the years that we have spent in high school, perhaps we can determine how we have solved the problems of the world, awaken unite in time to save their lives and their civilization?"

"The world is larger than our class, but the problem is specifically the same," the valedictorian continued. "Here, too, domestic ties are strong, while alliances with other countries, the United Nations being a major example, are as yet weak. Some of the nations of the world have already banded together to form individual unity, one example being those nations operating under the provisions of the Atlantic Pact. The same was the case during the early months of our class, as small groups were in vogue. It is true, however, that the words 'class of '50' have had the same unifying effect upon us as they have upon the nations of the world.

"The opponents of world unity claim that that people of a nation which joins a system such as the U.N. lose much of their national sovereignty. But, reverting to ourselves, we did not love our families less as our faith in the class increased. Rather, class unity served to expand our interests and social bility, and to achieve our aims. So the world could be with the nations of the world.

How can we attain this unity?

This unity of the nations of the world, which is so desirable, and so apparently necessary, if we are to survive. If we continue our analogy, our course is obvious: Mutual Cooperation. An attempt to understand the reactions of others. Tolerance. A Common Goal. By following these precepts the nations of our shrinking, falling world can unite, and save themselves yet can establish a truly lasting peace can make our world a fairer, better world in which to live.

Yes, we all hope for a happier, better world of the future. —Felix classroom. As we leave Baldwin High School, while so many of the students remain, we all go forward with great aspirations. We are also taking with us our memories. We shall all always remember the toll, the success, and the enjoyment which have been an integral part of our high school life. Some of us will achieve our goals in life. Others will not. But if we make good use of what we have learned in high school, if we apply to our daily life the principles of understanding, cooperation, tolerance, and unity which have been applied so successfully to our high school life, if we all work forcefully and diligently for those things in which we believe, then certainly our school, our village, and our families can be truly proud of us, and we can be proud of ourselves, the class of 1950."

RAY E. CLEMENTS, Editor and Publisher
GEORGE W. GOELLER, Associate EditorSomething for Nothing

The thing that has for a long time kept the present administration in power has been the promise of "something for nothing."

Westerners are promised they will have new power plants, new irrigation systems, and so on, all free at government expense.

New irrigation systems, and so on, all free at government expense.

New and beautiful highways, airports, harbors, and so on are promised, all free at government expense.

The unemployed are given relief, and the aged are supported.

Veterans are promised huge benefits, all free at government expense.

BUT NOT ONE PENNY OF IT IS FREE . . .

Before this idea of "something for free" catches on too universally . . .

Before this idea of "the world owes me a living" permeates our entire citizenship, let's just ask a few questions.

What government agency was it that assured Abraham Lincoln "cradle to the grave security?" . . .

Under what social legislation was Benjamin Franklin enabled to go to Philadelphia and set up a printing shop? . . .

What federal aid and control made the Westward moving pioneers secure against hardships? . . .

What department of the government supervised, provided funds, and provided incentive for the inventions of Thomas Edison? . . .

Maybe our system was all wrong in those days. . . .

But was it?

What do you think?

The Editor's NotebookDay of Decision

We have decided. . . . There is no escape from it. . . .

We have made up our minds what course we will take, and our decision will affect our children, and our children's children. . . .

Be not mistaken. . . .

Our choice is law, or war. . . . Brotherhood . . . or chaos. . . .

We will not withdraw. . . .

We will not permit greed to rule again.

We will not repeat the old mistake; while we sleep comfortably trusting in our riches, and denying our duties when some night, unawares we will awake to the thundering knock of war upon our door and find ourselves forced to face a hostile world.

The world now knows where we stand. . . . how far we will allow ourselves to be pushed.

And in the stirring words of General Douglas MacArthur:

"We Go."

Letters to the Editor How to Attract New Industries to Freeport AND VICINITY

Dear Sir:

It would seem it is time for Congress to do two things at least. One is to widen the tax formula based on a scientific study of the real needs of Government operation, and to eliminate all the hodge-podge procedure that has been followed through the years—the addition of tax after tax to a crazy quilt legislation full of loopholes and inequalities.

The second is to put government spending also on a more basic scale. Expenditures are made in accordance with the revenue from fair and equitable taxation.

WILL MORRISON

Dear Sir:

It ought to be obvious that funds to small business which have the desire to add to their profits and investments are not of a character to justify government investment. Any public money used to finance "small business" must come from the taxpayers, including "small business" itself. The 4 million enterprises of this country classified as "small" employ 30 million workers. What they need is not government aid, but relief from destructive tax policies.

B.C. ASHE

Dear Sir:

The government has printed a pamphlet showing people how "to keep household spending within the bounds of family income." What does Abe Lincoln's point—"ignorance is no handicap" Uncle Sam heard by a guy who lost his shirt in the haberdashery business, is ready to tell people how to do what the government cannot do.

H.P.

Dear Sir: We liked your editorial of last week very much. "Socialism, Here We Come" had something to it that should give us all plenty to think about. Give us more editorials of this type. We see too little of this sort of thing in our press, and while THE LEADER is doing a weekly paper carrying mostly idealistic type of thinking on a national scale and it can have a considerable influence. Good luck to you.

JOHN MINTON

Dear Sir:

Your last week's editorial "Socialism Here We Come" was fine. But what makes you think it will be 1960 before we have this condition? Don't you think we have this condition here right now? In my opinion we have plenty of socialism in this country right now, the only thought in my mind is what comes next?

B.D.J.

44th annual commencement exercises held in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Plans Moonlight Sail on July 29

Clutterbuck tells of three London couples on a Caribbean cruise, and their inadvertent and deliberate felonies.

Ellen Fenwick and Peter Lumb are presented along with Lucie Claire and Linda Stevens in the principal roles of "Clutterbuck" which is staged by Peter Zantho.

Plans completed by co-chairmen Mrs. Lillian Kessler and Rubin Blum call for a convoy of 35 cars to transport more than a hundred children between the ages of 7 and 12 to the park. The majority of the children will be selected from the Freeport-Merrick-Bellmore area. Children of members limited to 25, will be included. A program of games and contests will be set up and supervised by David Krieger. Prizes will be awarded.

Recruitment is in charge of Irene Guttmann and transportation will be arranged by Jay Kaplan. Mrs. Sadie Engler heads the refreshment committee. A doctor will be in attendance.

In addition to Mrs. Kessler and Mr. Blum, overall arrangements are being directed by Irwin Shavel and William Rawick.

Mrs. Dauer reported on the recent district meeting held at Long Beach and announced the auxiliary was represented by a large number of members at the Elks Flag Day exercises and at the naturalization of a group of Nassau County residents at a recent session of the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Ethel Halvorsen reported plans for a card party to be held in the clubhouse yesterday at 1:30 P.M.

The purpose of this game is to demonstrate the physical fitness of amputees to work and to raise funds for a $100,000 Amputee Center in this area.

Tickets, priced at $1.00 and $2.00 are available at the New York Giants' mid-town offices, and at the National Amputation Foundation, 200 West 24th Street, WAtkins 4-7664.
